Description
We, Daliworks, are providing Thing+, Internet of Things cloud, which enables customers to build faster, cheaper, reliable and scalable IoT services. Thing+ helps customers to take full control of their IoT services by connecting, managing, and analyzing their devices in real time. Thing+ cloud provides real-time status, rule-based alerts, graph analysis, and reports for their devices. Thing+ cloud offers a white-labeled platform together with the pre-integrated device middleware and full scale web application while existing IoT solutions require customers to integrate devices with server system and develop client applications by their own efforts. Thing+ is the best on quick start your easy-to-use IoT service.

Offer

IoT Cloud Platform, Thing+

From the closed beta test, many customers including cold chain management companies, smart farm companies, building management companies, and some manufacturers show that they have built their own monitoring services easily and quickly. We are actively recruiting qualified partners to optimize Thing+ service launch in other countries, and accelerate growth.

- Set up a marketing collaboration for Thing+ Cloud platform to enter European market
