Description

We are experts in reducing computer energy wastage in large networks, and detecting under-utilised devices. We work with many Facility Managers frustrated about invisibility of the IT's real energy costs, and also with CIOs that want to achieve energy savings goals aligned with corporate initiatives.

Request

TRASH THE SENSORS! Your office is full of computers? We use them to show occupancy and efficiency.

Innovative and cheap process to meter office occupancy and activity levels in realtime without deploying physical sensors. We want to find matching companies that integrate / sell / or install BMSs to see how to interface our system with theirs.

Keywords: Workplace Management Energy Efficiency Productivity Smart Buildings
